Why Making Halal Investment In Indonesia Is The Smart Choice

229 Million Potential Market

Indonesia has a large Muslim population (about 87.2 percent) and is the most prominent global domestic halal market. Indonesia's market share has become the largest globally, reaching 13 percent of the global halal industry market.

Abundant Natural Resources

Indonesia is blessed with abundant natural resources, Indonesia is perfectly positioned to supply the raw materials and commodities needed by foreign industries. Some of Indonesia's largest natural resources are nickel & palm oil, tin, coal, copper, gold, natural gas, and bauxite.

Special Skills Workers

Investing in the halal industry in Indonesia means you can hire local workers in Indonesia who have various special skills, which can help international companies penetrate the Indonesian market more efficiently.

A Strong Unity In Diversity

Indonesia is a vast archipelago comprising more than 17,000 islands. Consist of various cultural, ethnic, religious and linguistic diversity. The Indonesian motto Bhinneka Tunggal Ika, or unity in diversity, epitomizes the country's outlook on life. It is an integral part of Indonesia's official emblem and is enshrined in the Constitution

Indonesia as the world halal centre 2024

To support this program, three products distributed in Indonesia must be halal-certified by 2024. These products are food and beverage, raw materials, food additives, and additional materials for food and beverage and slaughterhouse products and services.
